E. A revision to the Agency regulation relating to the Office of General Counsel to incorporate the reporting responsibilities and additional authorities assigned by the Executive Order to General Counsels in the Intelligence Community.

F. A proposed Headquarters notice for your signature to inform Agency employees of the reporting requirements and increased responsibilities and authorities of the Office of General Counsel by reason of the Executive Order.

G. A memorandum for your signature for distribution to all employees relating to the establishment and responsibilities of the Intelligence Oversight Board.

H. A Headquarters notice to inform employees of Executive Order provisions relating to unauthorized disclosures or the threat of unauthorized disclosures of intelligence sources and methods and the procedures for reporting such disclosures.

J. A Headquarters regulation that incorporates the restrictions on intelligence activities recited in the Executive Order (including certain of the clarifying annotations issued by the White House); the procedures issued by the Attorney General relating to electronic surveillance, unconsented physical searches, and counterintelligence activities of the CIA; and those portions of the existing CIA regulation implementing the provisions of the Rockefeller Commission report that were endorsed by the President, as well as other restrictions on CIA activities imposed by the DCI during the period August 1973 through June 1974. In addition, your policies concerning CIA's relationship with correspondents and representatives of the public media and clergymen and missionaries have been codified in the last two paragraphs of this regulation (page 13). Certain provisions of the existing regulation based on the Rockefeller Commission report were replaced by provisions of the Executive Order treating with the same subject. Provisions of the existing regulation not treated by the Executive Order have been retained.

2. Other actions required by the Executive Order that impact on specific components of the Agency or on CIA's relations with the Intelligence Community will be forwarded separately.

3. Tabs D, F, and G have been prepared for your signature if you approve the action recommended. Tab K lists the other actions recommended for your approval.

SUBJECT : National Production

1. Attached for your consideration is a memorandum on the national production process prepared jointly by my colleagues (who can, and do, operate more collegially than is often recognized). We thought it might serve as a useful basis for Friday's discussion.

2. The attached memorandum has been shown to and discussed with Dick Lehman, who made some appreciated suggestions for improvement. It does not, however, necessarily reflect his views. Indeed, there are portions of it with which he (and others) will doubtless disagree.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

Comments on Proposed DCID No. 1/19

1. This is in response to the request for comments on the proposed DCID 1/19 circulated at the USIB Meeting of 15 April 1976.

2. As Acting CIA Member of USIB, I have one serious problem with the proposal: the designation of the Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community as the Vice Chairman of the new National Foreign Intelligence Board.

3. A review of the function of the NFIB clearly shows that the Board is to deal almost exclusively with the substance of intelligence. It is to coordinate national intelligence; improve relations with consumers; establish substantive requirements, priorities and objectives; provide operational guidance for collection systems; deal with the protection of sources and methods; and develop policies regarding liaison with foreign governments. None of these responsibilities is the primary concern of the Community Deputy. Below the level of the DCI himself, all are the primary concerns of the CIA and other production and collection elements.

4. If the Community Deputy is the Vice Chairman, there are some very practical considerations. First, the proposed staffing pattern for the Intelligence Community Staff does not provide for a staff to provide substantive support to the Community Deputy on the functions enumerated in the proposed DCID. If he is to draw his support from his staff, then it would have to be expanded greatly and would duplicate capabilities which already exist in other parts of the Community. If he is not to draw on his staff for this support, the question remains as to how this will be done and where it will come from.

should not staff for this - what does!

5. Furthermore, there is the question of how wide a scope of activity any Community Deputy will be able to handle. His primary responsibilities are clearly concerned with tasks like the allocation of resources, preparation of the budget and proposals for large and costly new projects. Even if the procedures for these tasks were fully developed and had been operating for several years, these tasks would be very demanding. But as things stand now, he has to develop these procedures and implement them. He should not be diverted to other kinds of tasks.

6. In terms of the congruence of the functions of the Board and the primary responsibilities of his position, the logic of the situation would be to designate the CIA Deputy as the Vice Chairman of the NFIB. There would be no need for any special arrangements or increased staffing, if the CIA Deputy is the Vice Chairman.

7. On this basis, the Acting CIA Member of USIB, with the full agreement of the four Deputy Directors of CIA, recommends that the Deputy to the DCI for CIA be designated the Vice Chairman of USIB.
